"These snooty Upper East Side people who live in co-ops are very upset that the gentleman who once hailed the taxi for them or announced the guest for them is now the husband of a shareholder in the building," said Ambers' lawyer, Josh Price. "They resent that he is being treated as one of them."

Dubbed the "Heidi Klum of foot models" by New York magazine, Christina Ambers has posed in ad campaigns for beauty giants, including Maybelline and Clinique. Her hands and feet have appeared in several films.

"I enjoy what I do, though it is hard work," Ambers said.
